Malik Attacks U. S. in Speech Designed to Counter Statement on Responsibility

Jebb Makes Charge

British Delegate Says Russia Would Rule All Asia

Lake Success, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Security Council—still snarled up over procedure on the Korean question—wound up its second week of squabbling yesterday, with Russia getting in the last word. The speech-making marathon resumes Monday.

Jakob Malik, as president, gave himself the floor yesterday, as Russia's delegate, to attack the United States in a speech designed to close out the council business for the week-end without danger of an immediate reply.

His speech was a counterattack to U. S. delegate Warren Austin's summation Thursday of Russian responsibility for North Korea's invasion of South Korea and defiance of the United Nations.

It followed a statement of Sir Gladwyn Jebb, chief British delegate, that Communist imperialism wants to swallow up all Asia and must be stopped.

The non-Communist group campaign of trying to out-talk Malik was carried on by Jebb after the council again failed to get Malik to make a ruling on seating the South Korean representative at the council table.

Malik tried vainly to make the council submit to him by voting on his proposal to seat both North and South Korean representatives—and Red China—before the council can consider anything further on the Korean question.

After the council meeting, Austin said in a statement that everything Malik had said did not answer "the fact that 53 members of the United Nations" (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Motorists Lodge Complaints With Cops on 'Runners'

Hit-Run Drivers Damage Autos, the License Registration Is Reported

A series of complaints by motorists was made to the police department late Friday and early today including two hit and run cases.

The first was at 4:17 p. m. Friday when Charles S. Hubert of the Dutchess Turnpike, said his auto was struck by a 1940 Buick while parked in front of 125 North Front street.

The Hubert car, a 1947 coupe, received damage to the left front fender, door and left seat fender. Hubert told the police the operator of the Buick continued without stopping after striking his car which is owned by Helen B. Hubert, same Poughkeepsie address.

Another hit and run case was reported at 7:45 p. m. Friday by John Lawrence of 10 Walnut street, who said his car was struck on Broadway near East Chestnut street.

Lawrence told the police that a car bearing a New York city registration struck his auto and continued without stopping, causing damage to his left front fender and running board.

Another complaint listed by the police was that of Gordon O. O'Brien of 100 West 1st street, who said his car was damaged while parked in the municipal auditorium parking lot.

Adelbert Kuhn of Roundville had notified headquarters that his car had been tampered with while parked in the A & P parking lot on Grand street. Kuhn said it had been let out of his tires, the car's radio antenna had been broken and that the radiator cap had been stolen.

Walter J. Miller Heads State 40 & 8

Kingston Attorney Elected at Legion Convention in Syracuse

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—American Legionnaires wind up their 32nd annual state convention today with election of officers, an anti-climax to a night water battle that brought out a police riot squad.

Walter J. Miller, attorney of Kingston, was elected grand chief of the La Societe Des 40 Hommes of 8 Chevaux last night. He succeeded James H. Merritt of Syracuse.

The convention was one of the quietest Legion meetings in history until the water brigades opened up last night in downtown South Warren street. No one was reported injured, but delegates, pedestrians and passing motorists were doused.

The World War 1 and 2 veterans assembled near the Onondaga Hotel about dusk and waged a running water fight until almost midnight. Traffic was virtually halted, and police were unable to discontinue the fun-makers.

Fire-eaters and small cannon added to the din. Sidewalks and streets near the hotel were bombarded with plates, glasses and other breakables.

Earlier, approximately 5,000 Legionnaires had treated the city to a three-hour parade.

An estimated 75,000 persons watched as the delegates, about 30 bands and drum corps and the unique locomotives and box cars of the 40 & 8 societies rolled through the streets.

Will Protect Ships

Hong Kong, Aug. 12 (AP)—British authorities today asked all ships approaching Hong Kong from the west to radio their expected time of arrival at least 12 hours before passing the Lema Islands near the mouth of the harbor. Observers saw in the move a possible decision by the British government here to protect ships. Officials declined comment. Communist shore batteries near the Lemas, 15 miles south of the city and three-and-a-half miles from the harbor entrance, have shelled three ships—Norwegian, British and American—since last Sunday.

No More Volunteers

Bangkok, Thailand, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Thai Ministry for Defense has quit taking volunteers for an expeditionary force to join United Nations troops in Korea. The books were closed after nearly 11,000 volunteered. The original call was for 4,000. Meanwhile, Thailand was preparing for trouble closer to home. Police, armed with bazookas and machine guns, threw up entrenchments along the Burma border opposite the area where Burmese and Chinese Nationalist troops have been skirmishing for a week.

Writes Book on Stalin

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, who today observes the second anniversary of her third-story leap from a window of the Russian consulate here, is writing a novel about Josef Stalin. "It will be titled 'The Red Devil,'" said Mrs. Kasenkina. "Of course the Red Devil is Stalin, who else?" The former Russian schoolteacher made her memorable leap to escape being returned to Russia.

Volunteers Asked As Local Spotters

Registration Is Scheduled at City Court Room Monday

Monday will be "R-day" in Kingston—the day for registration of volunteer spotters for the aircraft service.

Patriotic men, women and high school students will be asked to register that evening at the city court room in the city hall for service, when and if called upon, as volunteer spotters with the local Army Observation Post, Ground Observers Corps. Registration will be from 7 to 9:30 p. m.

Mrs. George Dewey Logan, post supervisor, described the registration as an "all-out effort." She stressed, "It is urgent."

The attitude on the part of local leaders in Civil Defense and the aircraft warning service reflects the growing national belief that it is better to be in readiness and never be called upon, than to be caught unprepared for a war.

At the present time, efforts are being directed toward the formulation of a complete, organized civilian team "on paper," able to go into action at a moment's notice.

The actual time of service for volunteer spotters will be only two hours a week, and the volunteer may choose the time most convenient to him, Mrs. Logan stated. She gave assurance that the essential qualifications for the job can be easily mastered by bidding a serious duty to discharge and only with the loyal and patriotic spirit of our citizens will be able to succeed," she said.

Standard System Of Raid Warnings Scheduled in State

Wilkinson Says Practice Should Be Held in Communities by Directors

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—New York State's Civil Defense Director yesterday announced a standardized system of air raid warnings and urged local defense officials to appoint raid wardens and start immediate training.

Col. Lawrence Wilkinson said local defense directors should begin practice of air raid warning drills "down to but excluding, the actual use of sirens and similar audible equipment."

The state director added that New York's system was devised in a uniform plan with New Jersey and Michigan defense authorities, and that he believed other states will adopt the same plan.

Since no funds have been allocated by state or federal government for signal equipment, he said, local directors should make a survey of such equipment in their areas and arrange for emergency use.

System Is Given

The warning system is as follows:

Yellow signal: A confidential alert for authorities only, with no public signal. It is to be used when an attack on the U. S. has been identified, but the specific endangered area is not known.

Blue signal: To alert the public. It is to be given when the probable zone of the enemy attack route is known, and so as to provide probable targets at least 15 minutes warning. A single, continuous two-minute blast by siren, horn or whistle will be sounded.

Red signal: To be given to the public when an air attack on the alerted area is probable within eight minutes. It is a final warning. A three-minute blast of either a fluctuating or warbling signal of varying pitch will be sounded by siren, or a succession (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Allies Hold Pohang Air Facilities

Americans Confident of Recapturing City; Battle Intensifies on Nakdong

Stopped at Kaepo Cavalry Division Goes After Enemy With Bayonets

Tokyo, Aug. 12 (AP)—American reinforcements rushed to choke off a new Communist flank threat along the Nakdong river today as Red pressure mounted in the center of the Korean battle line.

Units of the army's 25th Division rolled northwards from the southern front where a five-day attack drove to within two miles of Red held Chinha. They hit an unknown number of North Koreans swinging around the embattled 24th Division near Changnyong.

The battle for Pohang, eastern anchor of the allied line, was quieter Saturday night. Allied forces still held the vital airfield six miles southeast of the port town and American planes were using it.

Pohang itself appeared to be half in Red hands and half a flaming "no-man's" land. Correspondent Lelf Erickson reported from Eighth Army headquarters that American officers were confident of holding the airfield and recapturing Pohang.

Associated Press Photographer Max Dester reported from Pohang that American tanks led a South Korean patrol into the center of the city without drawing serious fire. A few enemy troops quickly disappeared, Dester said. He reported there was no Communist fire hitting the airfield.

Two Thrusts Stopped

Along the Nakdong river line 30 miles west, allied forces hurled back two new Red thrusts across the river in the Waegwan area near Taegu.

In the Changnyong area to the south, the Reds set up a road block between Yongsang, eight miles south of Changnyong, and Miryang, 16 miles to the east. This was considerable south of the 24th Division's position.

Erickson said the evident purpose was to drive against the 24th from the east while it was fighting a frontal attack along the Nakdong.

Leads Reinforcements

Col. John (Mike) Michaels, who commanded the main task force in the drive toward Chinha, led the reinforcements northward.

The 24th Division Friday whittled down the bridgehead and gained more than a mile along the three mile front in an attack that carried one tank column to the river.

Further north, troops of the First Cavalry Division, Yongsang, flashing thrust back an attempted river crossing at Kaepo. Erickson said the Reds in "battalion strength" crossed the river in darkness and tried to set up a foothold beneath close-range supporting artillery fire. Of this force, 150 were killed and the others thrown back by late afternoon.

First Cavalry Headquarters said the North Koreans crossed at a wrecked bridge near Taegu.

A part of the Communist force infiltrated lines of the Seventh Regiment and took up positions behind the Americans. Then other Red infantry launched a frontal attack and the First Cavalry met it with bayonets. Forces in rear came out of hiding simultaneously.

Other elements of the American division were rushed in to protect rear of the seventh. Both Red forces were routed and as they ran back toward the river American artillery zeroed in on the bridge.

The Reds threw a heavier force across the river at the same time about five miles north of Waegwan. A battalion of troops led by 10 tanks, reached the east bank and hit the first South Korean division.

Five Tanks Knocked Out

Erickson said five of 10 tanks reportedly in action were knocked out Saturday morning and the drive was stopped. But he said the other five tanks still roam the east bank.

State Department Has Hopes For Its 'Operation Figleaf'

Washington, Aug. 12 (AP)—State Department officials held high hopes today for success in the American propaganda counter-offensive against Russia over who started aggression in Korea.

The plan, sometimes referred to around the department as "Operation Figleaf," is to expose—up to a point—Russia's stalling tactics in the United Nations and its support of the North Korean Communists.

The idea is to tell all the facts about Soviet conduct—broadcast them over the Voice of America, illustrate them with movies sent abroad, and the like—but to do this strictly as a propaganda campaign and not to make formal charges which might force an open break.

Officials said present American policy calls for continuing diplomatic relations with Moscow and for taking no steps to force the Russians out of the U. N. This government is still counting on eventual peace in Korea to improve rather than dim the prospects for world accord.

The latest blast in propaganda campaign was loosed yesterday by Secretary of State Acheson. He made three charges against Russia and its delegate in the U. N. Security Council, Jakob Malik.

Mt. Marion Church to Present Recital
By Tenor and Metropolitan Soprano

DOLORES MARI

LEO BERNACHE

Dolores Mari, young American soprano who is being prepared for a debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Leo Bernache, popular tenor of the Fred Waring program and the concert and musical comedy stage, will give a joint recital at the Plattekill Reformed Church in Mt. Marion at 8 p. m., Sunday, August 27.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited. A silver collection will be taken.

Miss Mari, despite her youth, is already a veteran of the radio, concert and operatic fields. Her theatrical debut took place when she was four years old. She appeared as the child in "Madame Butterfly" in which her aunt, Giovanna Lattuada, was singing the title role.

Her career was launched when she was selected to represent her high school in the New York Inter-City Contest for young singers, and was then selected as soloist to represent the city of New York. Radio appearances and an extended concert tour followed, and then she made her operatic debut as a full-fledged singer in the role of Violetta in Verdi's "La Traviata." After singing with various opera companies in the United States, Miss Mari was engaged for an operatic tour in Cuba, Mexico and Venezuela.

Her performances came to the attention of Edward Johnson, then general manager of the Metropolitan, and Max Rudolf, artistic administrator of that company, who awarded her the coveted scholarship of the Metropolitan Opera.

She is being prepared for her debut by Maestro Victor Trucchi. Mr. Bernache is the winning tenor so frequently featured on the Fred Waring radio, concert and television programs, and he is also known for concert, opera and oratorio work.

A graduate from Dartmouth College, he has sung under such distinguished conductors as Toscanini, and has given numerous solo recitals. While in the navy, he was featured in the first all-Navy show, "Drop the Hook," which toured the South Pacific as well as the United States. Since 1948, he has been a member of the Amato Opera Company, singing such roles as Alfredo in "Traviata," Turiddu in "Cavalleria Rusticana," and Tamino in "The Magic Flute." He has a featured dramatic role in the recent Decca recordings of the Kurt Weill opera, "Down in the Valley."

The Mt. Marion concert will be sponsored by the Plattekill Church, which is known for excellent musical events during the summer months. The program will be announced later.

UNINVITED GUESTS

A suburban hostess inquires: "We invite friends from town for the day or perhaps just to dinner. One family have a chauffeur who drives them and another drive their own car but bring a young child and nurse. It is about these extra members of the family I'd like to know. How far are we obliged to take care of them?"

You are expected to consider how the chauffeur is to get his dinner. The nurse is, of course, given hers in your house.

Cards With Wedding Gifts
Dear Mrs. Post: While displaying the wedding gifts, is it improper to leave the cards with them? I think most people are interested in who gave what but a friend contends that it isn't kind to leave the cards because those who gave the least may feel embarrassed. What is right?

Answer: At small weddings where names can be told, they usually are taken off. At very large weddings where gifts run into high numbers the cards usually are left on.

Four Maiden Aunts
Dear Mrs. Post: A prospective bride has been brought up by four maiden aunts, her own parents having died. She would like all four to send out the wedding invitations, not just the eldest. How should the wording be?

Answer: The Misses Jones

request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their niece, etc.

(*Do not write The Misses Mary, Amy, Lucy and Jane Jones)

Telephone Announcements
Dear Mrs. Post: When Miss Hoffman calls for a certain company, she says "This is the Blank Company calling." I think this is wrong and that she should say "This is Miss Hoffman of the Blank Company calling." Which one is right?

Answer: If she is head of a special department or calling a personal customer she would give her name; otherwise, she would merely give the company's name.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. How is the wedding invitation inserted in the envelope? This and other questions about the Wedding Invitation and Announcement are given in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-10. To obtain a copy send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. "Here's one that your friend Larceny Lou might have played," writes a correspondent from Lansing, Mich. "It wasn't so much a matter of doing anything unusually tricky. It was mostly a matter of allowing an opponent to put the nose around his own head and strangle himself up."

"West opened the six of hearts, and South won in his own hand with the seven. He then rattled off four spade tricks, on which West discarded a heart, a diamond, and a club. South next laid down the ace of hearts, hoping to drop an honor. East discarded a low diamond, carefully holding on to the deuce of clubs."

"South then led a club from his hand and put up dummy's jack. East won with the ace of clubs and returned the jack of diamonds. Dummy won with the king of diamonds and returned a low club, whereupon East casually played the deuce that he had so carefully saved."

"It didn't occur to South that East was giving him the business. He finessed the nine of clubs on the assumption that West must have the king and that his only chance was to find the ten in the East hand."

"West naturally won with the ten of clubs and that was the end of poor South since West could immediately take two hearts and lead a club to his partner's king."

Congratulations to Lansing's Larceny Lou. As my correspondent indicates, some of the finest deceptive plays are more passive than active. You must sit tight and allow the opponent to make the mistake for which he is clearly headed. This sometimes obliges you to save just the right cards, for fear of revealing the true situation to your opponents."

The situation described in this hand is quite typical. When you have the ace-king of a suit, it isn't always necessary to take your top cards in a great hurry. If declarer goes after the suit he may have a finesse, and if you don't help him, he may take the finesse the wrong way. Of course, this sort of play is much safer against no-trump than against a suit contract. All too often, if

Knit Suits Lose Their Sat-In Look

Overline pocket flaps lend jacket interest to this knitted suit in nubby yarn. Skirt has wide ribbing but is narrow.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York—(NEA)—A few short years ago, knitted suits and dresses were seen chiefly on the laides in the late Helen Hokinson's cartoons. When a woman wearing a knitted suit stood up, she looked as if she were still sitting down. All that is changed. Autumn's knitted suits hold the line through new knitting techniques. And they are smartly styled.

A simple knitted tailleur (right) is hand-knitted in wool boucle by Lass O'Scotland and given hand-finished details. Black passementerie ribbon, contrast for the waist shade of suit, outlines the single-breasted jacket, the cuffs and the four pockets. The skirt is ribbed and very slim.

A second suit (above) has added jacket interest in its oversize pocket flaps. Knitted in a beige nubby yarn, it's as well-tailored as any good suit in wool fabric. Single-breasted, it has an open V neckline and small standing collar. The skirt has wide ribbing but a narrow look.

The third in this trio is a sheath-like dress in soft blue. Rows of stickwork are set into the easy dolman sleeves and used in horizontal bands on the skirt. The high, round neckline is the perfect foil for jewelry touches.

Black passementerie ribbon is used to outline single-breasted jacket, cuffs and pockets of this simple knitted tailleur.

Two Are Missing On Mt. Whitney

Lone Pine, Calif., Aug. 12.—Fear was entertained today for the safety of Christopher Smith Reynolds and Stephen Wasserman, both 17, missing on Mt. Whitney, highest peak in the United States, since last Sunday.

Reynolds, son of torch singer Libby Holman Reynolds and the late Zachary Smith Reynolds, heir to the $25,000,000 Reynolds tobacco fortune, and Wasserman, son of a New York broker, had planned to return here last Tuesday. They had only two days' rations.

The boys had been working at the Cerro Gordo gold mine for the last month. Both are experienced hikers and mountain climbers.

Inyo county Under Sheriff Arthur Jewett said nights are very cold on the mountain and that many persons have perished while trying to scale Mt. Whitney, which towers 14,496 feet above sea level. A party of four searchers started up the mountain on horseback Thursday and three more

Hit by Own Rocket

A U. S. Air Base in Korea, Aug. 12.—Air Force Lt. Joseph C. Miles of Harlem, Ga., was hit by a missile he fired from his own Mustang fighter. Miles brought back a 50-pound chunk of rocket to prove it. The airman fired the missile and hit a Red tank. Almost simultaneously he felt a heavy jolt through his plane. When he tried to lower his wheels for a landing, he learned the reason. A chunk of rocket apparently ricocheted from the tank and lodged in the plane's wheelwell. Miles landed safely.

Topcoat Weather

Chicago, Aug. 12.—It was topcoat weather over some parts of the northern tier of states from the Dakotas to New England today. Temperatures dropped to below freezing in Michigan as a mid-August cool wave pushed across the Ohio valley and into the North Atlantic states. The lowest reading early today was 30 above at Grand Marais, Mich., on Lake Superior. Temperatures continued near or a little above normal over most of the southern and western parts of the country.

Questions — Answers

Q—Are the Joshua trees native to the United States?

A—Joshua trees are found only in the United States. The government, in order to save them, has set aside the forest above the Coachella Valley as the Joshua Tree National Monument.

Q—Is there an estimate of the number of people under Russian control?

A—Russia has brought 830,000 people or about 40 per cent of the earth's 2,000,000,000 people under her control in the last 10 years.

Q—Does any part of Egypt lie in Asia?

A—Egypt is partly in Africa and partly in Asia since it lies on both sides of the Suez Canal and Gulf of Suez. The Asiatic portion is in the Sinai Peninsula.

Q—What is the wingspread of the Andean condor?

A—About 10 feet. Andean condors, found in the Andes Mountains of Western South America from Venezuela to Patagonia, are the largest birds of prey and of flight.

Q—What is another name for the collapsible opera hat?

A—This hat is also called the gibus hat, so named from the original maker in Paris.

Attractive to Moths

Moths go in for other delicacies besides Father's best suit. They're very fond of paint brush bristles of animal hair. So, if brushes, particularly new brushes, are to be stored for any length of time in a place where the destructive pests are prevalent, they should be kept in mothproof containers.

A good way to keep clean brushes is to tie them up in paper bags, with a few moth balls added for protection.

For a Too-Wide Window

Curtains hung inside the window frame will make the window seem narrower.

Picture Room as When Completed

The finishing of the interior walls of the house more or less sets the decorative scheme for each room. Three elements should be considered in the planning of these finishes—texture, color, and tone.

All have a direct bearing on the effect desired—whether it is to be formal or informal, light or dark, simple or pretentious. Therefore, in choosing a wall finish, one should try to visualize the completed room.

Paneling Effective

Wood paneling is usually associated with stately, dignified rooms. The type of paneling which gave so much charm to Tudor houses is expensive and requires the work of an expert cabinet maker. However, other types of wood paneling are more adaptable and offer interesting wall-finish possibilities in various types of houses. Plywood is one of the woods that may be used in this way. They are usually rubbed down with wax, the natural grain being sufficient for decorative effect.

At the other extreme from Tudor paneling are the wide boards which were used to a great extent in Colonial homes. These are sometimes used in Cape Cod cottages and get a keynote in quaintness for any room in which they form a background. They, too, are usually waxed, retaining the color and pattern of the wood itself.

Plaster Texture Creates Style

When plaster walls are used, texture is almost as important as color. For instance rough plaster walls are effective with massive Spanish furniture, but out of key with delicate Sheraton. It should be remembered that a rough plaster cannot be refinished in some other manner except at a great expense.

Wallpaper offers an unlimited range of wall-finish possibilities. Wallpaper runs from formal hand-printed scenic types to the small-figure papers suitable in a cottage bedroom. There are no hard and fast rules for choosing papers, and most interesting effects are obtained through original uses.

Home owners should avoid extremes in selecting interior finishes. Wise selection will reduce the possibility of later dissatisfaction.

Summer Heat Makes Water Pipes 'Sweat'

"Sweating" pipes and plumbing fixtures in summer-time are not a sign of faulty plumbing, advises the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. As a result of condensation of water vapor in the air, beads of moisture will form in warm weather on any pipes and fixtures containing cold water.

Normally, when not in use, the water and fixtures will warm rapidly to room temperature and the condensation will stop. When a closet tank or other fixture continues to "sweat" for hours after it has been used, it is a sign that cold water is continuing to flow through it, possibly as a result of an improper adjustment of the tank valve or a leak. In this case, a master plumber should be called, for checking and servicing.

Make a Man's Room

Reflect His Interests

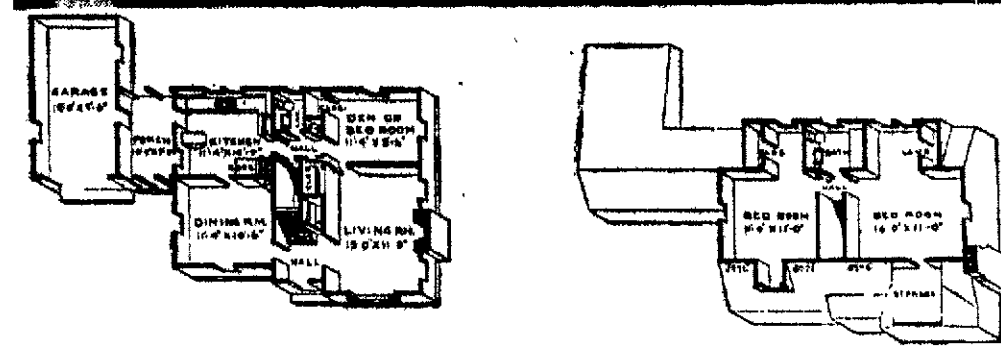

Make the room occupied by a man reflect his special interests. Strong wall colors and a light-colored floor contrast pleasingly with leather-bound furniture.

Lamps with brown bases and beige shades picturing fishing, hunting, horse or nautical scenes, depending on his hobby, create interest. One huge picture depicting this motif, or a group of six or eight small prints telling a story on the subject, is effective, centered on one plain wall. Avoid ornate picture frames.

Draperies with large plaid designs are better than figured hangings.

American women wore an average of half a dozen starched petticoats in 1900.

The Braintree

Efficient Kitchen With Traditional Charm

Try this for a kitchen with charm that functions efficiently.

Finish three walls in stained pine, the window-wall in small-patterned paper. From the beamed ceiling hang an old brass lantern. Place the up-to-date white enameled stove against a chimney-like wall of brick. Over the stove attach an old-fashioned copper head concealing a ventilating fan. Treated this way, the effect of an old-fashioned stove is created for the way of efficient modern stove and ventilator.

Recess the electric refrigerator in a pine niche. For cabinet tops use a metal resembling pewter. At the window use sheer white cotton Dutch or double-hung curtains (separate curtains for upper and lower sash). Before the window place a pine table and chairs for serving breakfast and snacks.

Over the sink, refrigerator niche or storage cabinets build open shelves with the same patterned paper used on the window-wall. On these shelves display blue and white milk glasses, such as setting for egg dishes, lattice-bordered plates and complete. Old milk-glass was made chiefly in the greater Ohio river valley area about 100 years ago, in the same region where fine American glassware is still made by hand today.

Walls Should Be Washed Before Applying Paint

In painting the interior walls of older homes, the home owner should first remove the thin layer of grease and smoke which often clings there, although it may not be perceptible. This film which is most frequently found on the walls of kitchens, prevents the new paint from adhering properly.

Where smeared walls are to be painted, they should first be washed with soap and water, to which a little ammonia may be added, and finally rinsed with water.

Cracks in the plaster should be well dampened and filled with a paste of plaster of paris or patching plaster. When the plaster of paris has hardened, it should be scraped or sandedpapered until it is smooth. It is likely to be more porous than the plaster of the wall and should therefore be given preliminary applications of the paint to be used on the whole surface.

Cedar for Closets

If equipped with a good tight door, a cedar-lined closet affords some protection against moths. Many lumber dealers sell an aromatic cedar paneling which is low in cost, easy to install and comes in wrapped and sealed packages that preserve its natural high-oil content.

The Braintree, An Attractive Home With Many Closets

By ANNE CHADWICK

The six-room "Braintree," introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is the answer to a tidy homemaker's prayer.

A conveniently laid out home with seven closets, five of them on the first floor, 3 sets of built-in drawers and a large storage space upstairs, matches the house design, one that will take care of her every wish.

The house, measuring 30'x23' has a cubic footage of 14,000 feet. The garage, 19'x9'6", has 3100 cubic feet.

The unusual treatment of the gable at right and the slightly raised roof over the front door give the house a distinguished look. Note the vertical lines of the gable and the dormer window which contrast nicely with the horizontal lines of the clapboards.

"The Braintree" is so designed that downstairs provides complete living quarters. The second floor may be finished at will.

The front door opens into the well lighted and compact hall. Light is supplied by panes in the door.

A closet and wide stairway to the second floor are directly opposite. Through an arch at the right is the living room and to the left is the dining room.

Oblong Living Room The 15'x11' oblong living room has a fireplace flanked by windows and there is a large picture window in the front wall. Two large expanses of wall, the side and back walls, will accommodate large or heavy pieces of furniture.

A door on the back wall opens into the 11'x8'6" den. Here there is a closet, and cross ventilation is provided by two windows.

A door from this room opens into a short hall, giving access to the lavatory and kitchen. Two closets and the cellar stairs open off this hall.

If the upstairs is incomplete the den may be used as a bedroom. In this case one of the closets in the hall can be made into a shower stall opening into the lavatory.

A swinging door at the end of the hall leads into the 11'x10' kitchen. A broom closet is on the left, just inside the entry door, and the stove is on the right at the end of the L-shaped work counter.

The refrigerator is adjacent to the broom closet and the swinging door to the dining room.

The corner near the breakfast bar on the side wall provides an excellent place for a baby's play pen or a quiet corner for mother to plan her activities. It is bright.

Bedroom Furniture Now Has Extra Conveniences

If you're in the market for new bedroom furniture, look for the little extra conveniences so many manufacturers are now building into their chests, dressers, and dressing tables.

The idea of engineered interiors in storage pieces has spread so quickly that jewelry racks for women and button racks for men have been incorporated into chests and dressers. In addition, you'll find purse racks and tie racks hiding behind sliding doors sometimes built into the sides of the pieces.

Drawers sized to accommodate shirts, hosiery, gloves, and cosmetics are other common-sense features to watch for when buying your new furniture.

COST OF HEATING SYSTEM The cost of installing the average home heating system represents from 6 to 10 per cent of the total construction cost of the house.

Process Removes Odors From Paint

One of the primary headaches of decorating time in the home, the persistent odor of paint, is eliminated now by a new paint with no scent at all.

The new paint, the manufacturer says, isn't just regular paint with a nice scent added to mask the unpleasant linseed-turpentine smell. This is how the company explains it:

Most paint contains three things—pigment, solvent and binder. The pigment or color never has any scent. The solvent, generally turpentine, has been developed in odorless form by the petroleum industry. And the binder, generally linseed oil which hardens and dries the paint, has been deodorized by the company's own secret process.

Noisy Electric Fan May Get on Nerves

Unless you use an electric fan whose noise level is not much above that of the room in which it is running, your nerves may be so frayed that you can't enjoy the heat-relief given.

On the other hand, if the noise made by the fan is not much greater than that which naturally exists in the room, chances are that it won't get on your nerves.

For instance, in a "quiet" home—that is, one with a 35 to 40-decibel noise level—you should use a fan which makes less than 45 decibels noise. In other words, you need a quiet 10 or 12-inch model.

In an office where the noise is up around 45 decibels, a quiet 12-inch or a quiet 16-inch fan operating on second speed will do the trick.

Cleaning White Paint

Equal parts of milk and water, with a little kerosene added, is good for cleaning white painted woodwork. Heat the mixture before using.

A fool and his money are soon parted, they say, but a local woman who used to think her husband was pretty foolish has changed her mind since she found how difficult it was to get a few dollars from him to run the house.

Wife—Don't you think, dear, that a man has more sense after he's married?

Husband—Yes, but it's too late then.

Just got word of the flagpole sitter who, when his mother-in-law died, observed the proprieties by sitting at half-mast.

A local woman invited a man friend of her husband to be their guest at dinner. "I don't like the idea," said hubby, "as he used to kiss you before we were married."

Wife—Well, so did you.

Husband—Yes, but I've gotten over it, and maybe he hasn't.

Men may think he's pretty smart in using radar, but the bat has been using it for ages.

Morgan's Rest Trips Merchants, 5-3, for First Win

12-Game Drouth Halted by Keen Hurling of Bechtold

Four Runs in First Assures Victory

It had never happened before in City League history and Morgan's Rest made sure last night that it wouldn't happen to them. We mean going through an entire schedule without winning at least one game.

Remember Pucked Davis' horrendous Colonial Merchants of a few years ago? Harry Secreto saved them with a no-hit, no-run game.

Jerry Bechtold was the Morgan hero yesterday, two-hitting the same Merchants into submission, 5 to 3, for the first victory in 13 starts by Jimmy Morgan's tossers.

Eric Goercke generously walked the first three men to face him and before Bob Rybinaker could put out the fire Morgan's hand scored four times.

Open With Four
Goercke loaded the sacks on free passes to Muxon, Slover and Schryver and Rybinaker took over. His first act was to walk Stoll, forcing in a run. The second run fell on Charlie Lay's infield out and Ball banged two more across with a singlet.

Singles by Vince Stoll and Charlie Lay and a double by Hopper closed out the Morgan scoring in the third.

Bill Slover's error behind a walk to Provenzano and Brown's single produced a Merchant tally in the first inning. It took an error, a walk and a fielder's choice to create the second Merchant tally but they made it legitimate in the fifth on successive walks to Rybinaker and H. Stoll and an infield out.

Vince Stoll collected a third of Morgan hit total with a pair of singles. Franco, Muxon and Hopper poled doubles.

The boxscore:

BUGLE INSTEAD OF WHISTLE—Eddie LeBaron hangs up his football uniform after quarterbacking for the College All-Stars against the Philadelphia Eagles at Chicago's Soldier Field. The little College of Pacific ball-handler reports to a Marine Officers Training School instead of the professional Washington Redskins.

LeBaron and Justice Lead All Stars To 17-7 Victory Over Philly Eagles

Chicago, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, ranked as one of the greatest pro football machines ever assembled, were picking up their wreckage today. The All Stars ripped through the National Football League champions 17-7 before nearly 90,000 enthralled customers in Soldier Field last night.

The surprise triumph—the Eagles were favored 14½ points—was balm for the 38-0 trouncing Coach Greasy Neale's same gang registered over the college graduates in 1949. It was men against boys then. This time it was men against men.

All but Emil Sitko of Notre Dame, out with a muscle injury, saw action in the 49-player All Star squad, astutely readied by head coach Eddie Anderson who returns to Holy Cross from Iowa this season. None was injured in the game.

Sharpening the attack were 20-year-old Eddie LeBaron, the 165-pound quarterback from College of Pacific, and North Carolina's Charley "Choo Choo" Justice.

LeBaron's masterful generalship, his slip out passes and his nimble runs through and over guys twice his size stamped him as about the toughest little gent to come along since Davey O'Brien. He left today for Camp Pendleton, Calif., and active service with the Marines.

Justice was every inch an All-American—a ball of fire lashing 133 yards in nine carries, including runs of 47, 31, 28 and 12 yards.

Justice, who decided not to join the major pro ranks, herded the All-Stars on a 54-yard scoring drive in the first period. Ralph Pasquariello of Villanova (who will play for the Los Angeles Rams) punched over from the one-yard line.

In the second quarter, Justice snared a 35-yard scoring pass from LeBaron.

'Just Dead Tired' Says DiMaggio

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—For the first time in his major league career Joe DiMaggio, star New York Yankee outfielder, was benched last night.

"Joe is dead tired," said Manager Casey Stengel before the Yankees' game, eventually won by the Yankees, 7-6. "I hate to do it, but this is the right time. I don't know how long I'll keep him out. Perhaps a week. He can pinch hit, of course."

"I'm tired," DiMaggio said. "I've got my share of aches and pains. I know some people are saying that I'm about through. Well, they said that in '46, but I wasn't."

The "Yankee Clipper" has missed other games, but only when he was injured.

Major League Roundup
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Vern Bickford's no-hitter, first in the majors since 1948, may be the spark to ignite another pennant fire in Boston.

No longer do the Braves Field customers chant that old refrain about "Spahn, Sain and a day of rain." Their '48 pennant formula is old stuff.

Bickford, once No. 3 man behind Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn, can hold his own with the best, giving Billy Southworth a strong 12-3 pitching punch. With any luck, all three can be 20-game winners. The three have won 44 of the Braves 59 victories.

Five games behind the league-leading Phillies, the persistent Braves have a chance to make the grade. After they finish with the dazed Brooklyn Dodgers tomorrow, the Bostonians move into Philadelphia for two vital games.

"Bick" will be ready for the Phil series, with Spahn facing the Dodgers tonight.

Barney Was Last
Brooklyn, whose Rex Barney pitched the last previous no-hitter against New York, Sept. 9, 1948, was the victim. The Dodgers also were on the receiving end of the last Braves fieldless job, thrown by Jim Tobin, the old knuckleball expert, in 1944.

Carrying a 7-0 lead into the ninth last night, Bickford wavered momentarily. He walked pinch hitter Jim Russell. After retiring Pee Wee Reese, he walked Gene Hermanski. Russell then became the first Dodger to reach second base. After Duke Snider curled a long foul drive into the leftfield corner, he rapped a double play ball to shortstop Buddy Kerr to end the game.

The Braves clipped a full game off the Phils' lead when New York's Sal Maglio knocked out the pace setters, 3-1. Al Dark's two-run homer and an inning of wildness by soldier Curt Simmons gave the Giants their 18th win in their last 21 games.

Blackwell Stops Cards
Ewell Blackwell, flashing his 1947 form, held the Cardinals to four hits and left them in fourth place, 8½ games behind the Phils. The lean Cincinnati righthander was helped to a 5 to 2 victory by Ted Kluszewski, who slugged two doubles and a single.

Chicago handed Pittsburgh another loss, 3-1, with Frank Hillier copping his third in a row. Everybody fattened up on the second division. Clubs in the American except Detroit and Boston. The Tigers were held to a double-header split at St. Louis and lost ground all around.

Dizzy Trout bested Ned Garver for a Detroit win in the 4-3 opener when Don Lenhardt dropped a throw on a possible double play ball in the 10th inning.

Outfielder Ken Wood cut down two consecutive runners at the plate in the second game, won by the Browns, 2-1. Although he held St. Louis to five hits, Hank Should Golfers Think?

Why is it your practice swings are rather good but the swing that you take at the ball is nothing for the picture books? You—with your 10 to 25 handicap—are not the only golfer who has two different swings. Many of the best of them have. The veteran Tony Penna pointed that out at the Indian PGA spring meeting.

Said Penna: "All but a few of the tournament pros have one swing for breaking course records while playing their club members and another commercial swing for trying to pay tournament circuit room, board, travel and caddies."

Penna confesses that the psychology of the two swings is too deep for him, although he suspects that the tournament swing develops because the golfer is conscious of trying to do something that requires superhuman finesse. The player's other swing only requires that he swing. When he does that he hits the ball. In other words, stop thinking. Just get up there and bang that ball!

Danny the Duffer: Golf was originally a man's game—that who can blame the women for an occasional fervent wish that it had remained so!

Borowy lost his first start as a Tiger.

Cleveland moved to within three games of Detroit by throwing across two runs in the ninth to edge Chicago, 3-2. Ray Boone's single drove home Allie Clark with the winning run for Mike Garcia.

Joe DiMaggio rode the bench for the first time in his career and his sub, Cliff Mapes, hit a seventh inning homer that gave New York a 7-6 edge over Philadelphia. The Yankee Clipper was benched by Manager Casey Stengel who said he was "dead tired." DiMaggio has missed many games because of injuries but this was his first benching.

Cuban Sandalo Consuegra stopped Boston with six hits to give Washington a 5-2 triumph.

Van Aken Whiz Kids Are Eliminated

The two Van Aken whiz kids, 13-year-old Harold and 16-year-old Edna, were eliminated in the second round of the Wiltwyck golf club caddy tournament.

Brian Smith downed Harold Van Aken, 1 up while Edna carried Charlie Bostic to the 19th hole before losing the match.

Jerry Wells defeated Lynn Brooks, 1-up, and Harvey Bostic eliminated Scott Crockstock, 2 and 1.

Although Manager Joe Hoffman has kept his starting lineup a deep mystery, it is expected that an all-Jones Dairy battery of Tommy Fisher and George Zadany will start for the City League All Stars against the Paterson-Colonials tonight at municipal stadium.

Game, time is 8:30 p. m. Manager Vic Scauro of the New Jersey club said he would lead off with his ace right hander, Gene Phillips.

Sweden's Bergelin Upsets Sedgman
Rye, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—The Australians suffered a shock when their youthful Davis Cup tennis ace, Frank Sedgman, took a five-set beating from Sweden's Lennart Bergelin in the opening match of the interzone finals yesterday, but they appear not to have too much to worry about.

When the challenge round opens against the American forces on Aug. 25 at Forest Hills, the racket swingers from down under probably will be back at their old stand. Fortunately for them, the Swedes have only one Bergelin.

Torsten Johansson, the No. 2 player for the European zone champions, proved to be far out of his depth when he faced John Bromwich in the other match in the second of yesterday's matches and went down 6-2, 6-3, 6-0.

This, coming after Bergelin's thrilling 2-6, 6-2, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3 upset of Sedgman, cooled off the Swedes' highly vocal supporters in the stands at the Westchester Country Club and returned things to their proper perspective.

Bromwich and Sedgman, who come from the best doubles-playing country in the tennis world, were 5-2 favorites to defeat Bergelin and Sven Davidson in today's four-man event.

Ransom's 139 Leads All-American Golf
Chicago, Aug. 12 (AP)—Henry Ransom of Chicago today held the halfway lead in the professional division of the Tam O'Shanter "World" golf championship with a total of 139.

Ransom, 39-year-old tournament darkhorse, fired a three-under-par 69 yesterday to lead the pro-run for the first prize of $11,000. He is two strokes up on Chandler Harper, new P.G.A. champion from Portsmouth, Va., in the 72-hole meet.

Tied at 142 are Dick Mayer, Porky Oliver and Jim Ferrier while Bobby Locke, Clayton Heffner and Ed Furgol share 143½. Even with par 144 are Lawson Little, Cary Middlecoff, Johnny Blum, Jimmy Demaret, Skee Riegel and Ted Kroll.

Jerry The First
Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Jerry The First won the featured Oyster Bay race, a free-for-all event, at Roosevelt Raceway last night in 2:05 3/5, a half length ahead of Haves Hanover. Indian Land placed third, Jerry The First, with Eddie Cobb in the sulky, returned $3.70, $3.10 and $2.30.

Just Like Dad
Cleveland (AP)—Ken Gargal, rookie halfback from Purdue, is hoping to have as much success in professional football as his father had. Ken is bidding for a halfback or quarterback spot with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League. His father was a pro grid teammate of the immortal Harold (Red) Grange.

Crystal Beach, Ont., Aug. 12 (AP) — The new "Miss New York State" is Marilyn Patricia Reynolds, a 21-year-old Syracuse University senior. Miss Reynolds, whose home is in Syracuse, was picked over 23 other finalists last night in the ballroom at the amusement park here. She will represent New York in the Miss America pageant September 4 at Atlantic City. Joyce Carolyn Klaus, 20, of Kenmore, was runner-up. Third place went to Constance Goldberg, 18, of Brooklyn. She appeared as "Miss Sullivan County."

Will Meet in September
London, Aug. 12 (AP) — Britain's Parliament will meet Sept. 12 to discuss national defense. The legislators recessed July 28 and were not scheduled to reconvene until Oct. 17. Prime Minister Clement Attlee sent out the summons after a lengthy cabinet session at which, it is believed, members held a wide-ranging discussion of Britain's defense position.

Released on Bail
Clara Palen, 17, of Stone Ridge was arrested there Thursday night by Sheriff George C. Smith and County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg on an assault, third degree, charge preferred by Hazel Bush, also of Stone Ridge. Miss Palen was released on bail for hearing August 14 before Justice of the Peace Roy Weber.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—The chance of homeowners running out of fuel oil this winter depends more on the weather than the war, oilmen say. But the price may go up even before frost brings the first supply pinch.

Demand this winter could run 20 per cent above last winter, because there will be about 700,000 more oil burners to be supplied.

And stocks of home heating oil on hand today east of the Rockies is about 17 per cent below that at this time last year. That's important, because no matter how hot it is today, it's into these stocks the fuelman must dip if he's to find enough oil to heat all the homes this winter.

The industry thinks it can take in stride a mild winter, like the last two, even with war's big step-up in demand for petroleum products. But although production and distribution facilities have been built up in the last two years, another cold winter like the one three years ago might find the industry in serious trouble, some oilmen say.

See It As 'Insurance'

They argue that a hike in fuel oil prices now would be a good insurance against shortages later, because it would bring into production some marginal refinery capacity, and help to build up the depleted stocks. They particularly fear another fuel oil shortage scare like the one three winters ago, because this time homeowners with empty fuel tanks and factory owners with curtailed production because of an oil scarcity would be likely to go clamoring to Washington for government controls.

A bad winter would be felt much more widely this time. Many factories have converted from coal to oil in the last two years. Many of the new homes that have mushroomed around the country have put in oil burners. Many older homes have been converted from coal, during mine strike periods.

Oil burner sales so far this year are 38 per cent ahead of last year. By the end of the year, industry sources predict, there will be five million units in the country.

Pressure Has Increased

The demand pressure on most oil products has increased, too. Refineries will be turning more of a barrel of crude oil into aviation gasoline in the months ahead. More gasoline was burned on the roads this summer than ever before—a greater rise in consumption even than had been expected.

And new cars continue to pour out of Detroit. The defense program seems bound to increase the consumption of heavy fuel oil in factories this winter.

All of these products—as well as the light fuel oil that heats your home—come out of the same barrel of crude oil.

But the industry hasn't been standing still. Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) estimates that if we have normal weather this winter the demand for heating oil will be up 20 per cent and for kerosene 15 per cent. But he notes that with the new refining capacity installed the industry can now handle refinery runs of 5.9 million barrels of crude oil a day compared with the previous high crude oil run of 5,888,000 in late 1948.

oil industry put back $8 billion of its earnings in the last five years into exploration, development and processing facilities. As a result, he says, compared to the peak war years of production in 1945, the industry now has the capacity to pump 27 per cent more crude oil a day from the ground, has 21 per cent more refining capacity and has 24 per cent more oil reserves underground.

Oilmen also believe that this year more distributors and home owners than usual have filled up storage tanks early. Many suppliers and distributors have built up their storage facilities this year. Before frost the record consumption of auto gasoline will have eased and the refineries will make less gasoline and more heating oils from their runs of crude oil.

Half Cent by Cities Service
Meanwhile, in the east the price of fuel oil has already taken its first tentative upward step. Cities Service Oil Co. added a half cent a gallon to its home heating oil price at the start of this month in its territory from Maine to Virginia. Atlantic Refining Co. to day added 3/10 of a cent a gallon to the price of kerosene and diesel oil.

A really bitter winter—with war factories also calling for heavy oil and war machines calling for tank and aviation fuel—could put such a pinch on the supply and price situation of home fuel oil that it gives the oil industry the shivers just to think about it.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Lucille Cooper, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooper of the Saugerties road, were held Friday morning from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home. The Rev. William C. Cain officiated. Burial was in Willowick Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary A. Hickson of 46 Meadow street died Friday in this city. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Georgianna Howell; two grandchildren, Barbara Jean and Charles Howell, and one sister, Emma J. Reeves, all of this city. Funeral services will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home Monday at 10 a. m. Burial will be in Monticello Cemetery.

Hillary Hilda Auchmoody of Colden street, Newburgh, died today. She is survived by her father, Edward E. Auchmoody; her father, Joseph Barley; a sister, Mrs. Ethel Slater; and four brothers, George, Richard, Raymond and Myron Barley. Funeral services will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, at a time to be announced. Friends may call any time from Sunday afternoon on.

Funeral services for the Rev. Clayton J. Potter, D.D., who died suddenly August 8 at his home in Glenville, were held Friday at 2 p. m. from his late residence. Burial took place in Glenville. The Rev. Mr. Potter was pastor from 1937 to 1942 at the Mt. Marion and High Woods Reformed Churches. Prior to that time, he was pastor for 25 years of the historic Reformed Dutch Church of Schenectady. He is survived by his wife, Jane Swart Potter; a daughter, Mrs. Grace Lloyd of Canaan, Conn.; a grand daughter, Catherine Kelly, of Canaan; the Rev. James Potter, Canaan; and the Rev. Herman Potter, D.D., L.L.D., dean of Hartford Seminary, Hartford, Conn.

Funeral services for Mrs. Reuben B. Torgue of 174 Downs road, who died Tuesday afternoon after a short illness, were held Friday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church where Mrs. Torgue had been a lifelong member. The Rev. William J. McVey, minister of the church, officiated. Before and during the services Miss Edna Merrieworth, organist, rendered many of Mrs. Torgue's favorite hymns and selections. The services were largely attended by her many relatives and friends. Burial was in Willowick Cemetery. Brerers were Duane Forman, Alvin Jones, Clarence Mullen, Harold Metcalf, Chester Baltz and William Pruitt. All day Wednesday and Thursday friends and neighbors of Mrs. Torgue called at the Sweet and Keyser Funeral Home to pay their respects to the woman who had been a friend, neighbor or counselor to them. Thursday the members of the staff of county clerk's office called at the funeral home as well as employees of Herzog's and employees of the County Welfare Department.

Hanley Praises Press For Exposing Defense

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley says the American press "has exposed the shattering inadequacy of our expensive defense establishment" by reporting "the ugly face of war" in Korea.

Hanley lauded the job being done by correspondents in east Asia and by the newspapers at home as "a vital public service." He said "it is vital because we are big enough to face the truth."

The lieutenant-governor, likely Republican nominee for governor, spoke at dedication ceremonies of the Albany Times Union's new plant.

Weather Sets New Lows in Sections

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—Chilly weather nipped New York state, today as the mercury dropped into the 40s and set low records for the date in some places.

Cool weather also was predicted for tonight.

Temperatures tumbled into the 40s in many sections this morning. A reading of 39 degrees was recorded at River Bend, near Chesham Falls in northern New York. A 40-degree reading was reported at Oneonta.

New date records were set in Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo. In Albany, the thermometer registered 46 degrees, three under the mark set in 1909, 1913 and 1946.

Syracuse reported 48, one degree below the 1946 record. At Buffalo, the mercury slid one degree under the date record of 52 set in 1947.

42 at Ithaca
Ithaca's 42 reading was the lowest this summer.

The weather bureau said temperatures during the day would be in the high 60s and low 70s and that it would drop to the 40s again tonight.

Tomorrow will be sunny and a little warmer than today, the bureau predicted.

Forecasters said the cold air descended on the state from Canada.

Other low overnight temperatures included: Utica 42; Elmira, Massena and Canton 43; Rome, Malone and Binghamton 44; Watertown 45; Ovid 46; Glens Falls 47; Danville 48; Rochester and Dunkirk 51; and New York city at LaGuardia Field 63.

New Records Loom For Special Sales
The Kingston Days sale which began Friday morning and continues until 5 o'clock this afternoon promises to set new records for similar promotions in this city.

Time did not permit a full-scale survey of merchants this morning, but the following comments were received from four merchants closely identified with promotional sales here.

James L. Rowe, shoe store proprietor who has been conducting semi-annual sales for 17 years: "The biggest I ever had there were 250 people waiting when the doors opened Friday morning."

Leonard Burrows, chairman of Uptown Businessmen's sale committee and department store manager: "We have no records of ever having a day so big as Friday, and that includes Christmas shopping. Sales broke all records in the 14 years I have been here—and it was done without sheets or pillowcases."

Clyde E. Wonderly, Jr., committee member and advertising manager of dry goods and department store: "Much better than last year."

Kirk Is Silent
Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk refused to comment on international affairs when he arrived by plane today en route to western Germany for a five day vacation outside the Soviet Union.

The retired admiral said he could say nothing at all about Russian affairs, not even to mention the present political atmosphere in Moscow.

Breweries Vote For Union Shop

New York, Aug. 11 (Special)—Employees of two Kingston brewing companies Thursday voted in favor of working under union shop contracts, the National Labor Relations Board announced here Friday.

N.L.R.B. polls were conducted among employees of the Dobler Brewing Co., Inc., 40-58 Bruyn avenue, and P. Ballantine and Sons, Field Court. In each case a majority of the employees voted in favor of the proposition calling for a contract that would make membership in their union a condition of continued employment.

Both groups of workers are represented by the Brewery Workers Local Union 23, International Union of United Brewery, Flour, Cereal, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers of America, C.I.O.

State Fruit Men Plan Area Sessions

Several hundred New York state fruit growers are expected to attend demonstrations and lectures at the DuBois Orchards near New Paltz on Monday, August 14.

The meeting is part of the two-day summer meeting and tour of the New York State Horticultural Society.

Demonstrations of fruit farm machinery will start the day at the DuBois Orchards, three miles south of New Paltz on Route 32. More than 45 different machines will be demonstrated, according to William H. Palmer, Ulster county agricultural agent.

Lectures have been scheduled by Truman Nold, secretary and manager of the National Apple Institute, and Carroll Miller, manager of the Appalachian Apple and Peach Service, E. Stuart Hubbard, president of the Horticultural Society, will preside.

On the second day of the meeting, August 15, four separate tours have been planned by county agents in Columbia, Dutchess, Orange and Ulster counties. The Ulster county tour will include Sanford Orchards, New Paltz; Walter Clarke & Sons, Milton; Claude Hepworth stand, Milton; and the O. R. Hildebrand farm at Port Ewen.

Booklet Is Released

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Control of financial transactions involved in a retail store is described in a new illustrated booklet, "Profitable Operation Through Accounting," issued today by the New York State Department of Commerce. The publication is the third in a series of retail management guides and was prepared with the cooperation of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants. Copies of "Profitable Operation Through Accounting," and the first two publications in the retail management series, "Customer Relations" and "Store Arrangement and Display," which deal with handling customers and modern merchandising methods, may be obtained without charge by writing to the New York State Department of Commerce, 112 State street, Albany 7, New York, or through any of the department's regional offices.

Tried to Sell Sugar

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—Three children rang neighbors' doorbells yesterday trying to sell two-pound bags of sugar for 25 cents each. A housewife called police. The children, eight, ten and 11 years old, led authorities to the alleged sources of the sugar—Mrs. Mary I. Somers, 19-year-old mother of a two-year-old son, and her sister, Evangeline Harpst, 18. Police said the two women got the three neighborhood children to peddle the sugar. The sisters were arrested last night and charged with stealing about 30 pounds of sugar from an East Side restaurant which had been closed for the summer. The children were not identified and no charges were placed against them. The women were booked on burglary charges.

Lights Go Out

Biddeford, Me., Aug. 12 (AP)—The lights went out in southern Maine last night as a power failure darkened 60 cities and towns. Some 150,000 were without electricity for periods ranging from five minutes to an hour. The breakdown covered an area of 1,100 square miles in York, Cumberland and Oxford counties.

Newark Would Limit Families to Two Pets

Newark, N. J., Aug. 12 (AP)—Dogs and cats may be rationed as household pets in Newark.

The city commissioner is studying an ordinance limiting a family to not more than one dog and one cat. The legislation was recommended by city health department officials who believe that for sanitary and health reasons no household should have a lot of pets.

The ordinance, which comes up for public hearing and final passage Aug. 23, provides a penalty of a fine up to $200, 90 days in jail or both.

Two Persons Hurt, One Is Arrested After 9W Mishap

Two persons reported slight injuries and one person was arrested as the result of a head-on collision near Saugerties Friday night.

State police of the Lake Katrine sub-station arrested Carmine Grossi of Brooklyn on a reckless driving charge after troopers alleged an automobile driven by her crashed into another automobile while she was attempting to make a right turn at the intersection of Routes 32 and 212 one-half mile west of Saugerties at 11:50 p. m.

Miss Grossi, who reported she suffered contusions of the chin, will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers at Saugerties tonight.

The other automobile was driven by John Harris, 37, of Saugerties, who told troopers he had come to a complete stop at the intersection, waiting for the Grossi automobile to either turn or pass him. Mrs. Esther Harris, a passenger, suffered contusions of both knees, troopers reported.

Court Rules She Can't See Children

Mincola, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—By court order, Mrs. Dorothea Matthews may not see her three children until after Herbert Gehr, 39-year-old television director, is tried for killing his wife.

The attractive, red-haired, 31-year-old woman allegedly was with Gehr last July 10 in a mountain cabin near Patterson, N. Y., when Mrs. Gehr was shot as she headed a raiding party.

Gehr, who is charged with second degree murder, has said he thought he was shooting at prowlers and did not know his wife was in the vicinity.

Gehr's trial date has not been set.

Supreme Court Justice Thomas J. Cuff ruled yesterday that meanwhile Mrs. Matthews' husband, Mark, 38, a messenger service official, will have charge of the children.

The order also banned Mrs. Matthews from seeing the children's blonde governess, from the Matthews household while the children are there.

Prior to the shooting Mrs. Matthews had named Mrs. Fielding as "the other woman" in a divorce action charging adultery.

Held in Hospital

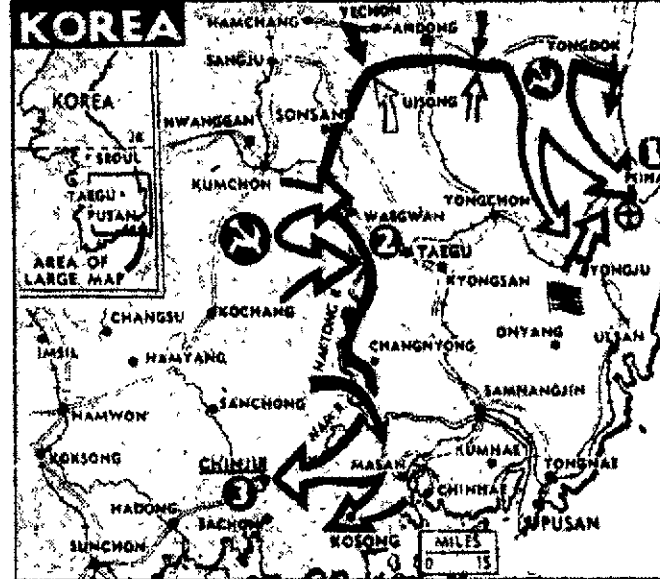

London, Aug. 12 (AP)—A man charged with stealing a briefcase full of British atomic secrets was held in a hospital today after he slashed his wrists in his jail cell. His condition was described as "not serious," but a preliminary hearing on the theft charge, scheduled for today, was postponed pending his recovery. He is William Ralph Wakenan, 35.

Wakenan was full of atomic secrets when he was arrested last week from Frank H. Greenleaf, an official of the Supply Ministry's atomic energy production division at the new British atomic plant in Risley, Lancashire.

To Resume Shipments

Bonn, Germany, Aug. 12 (AP)—West Germany will resume shipments of Ruhr steel to the Soviet zone of Germany, allied officials announced here yesterday. An allied spokesman said the West German government had agreed to resume that exchange of deliveries of iron, steel and wood with East Germany under terms of an east-west trade treaty. East zone mine timbers would be exchanged for Ruhr iron and steel, he said.

ANOTHER RED THRUST

North Koreans thrust into Pohang (1) and pushed on toward the biggest American base in Korea, six miles below the port city. The Red massed five divisions along the Nakdong river, threatening Taegu (2) and were vigorously resisting the U. S. push toward Chinha (3). Arrows indicate other drives.

Second Woman Is

Communists in position to risk war. Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, David Greenglass, a 28-year-old Brooklyn machinist, was stationed at the Los Alamos atom bomb center in 1945 as an army specialist.

The government has already charged that Greenglass, 32, helped recruit Greenglass as a source for secret information that was turned over to Harry Gold, a Philadelphia chemist who pleaded guilty to spy charges.

Direct Link Claimed

The government claims Gold also was the direct link to Dr. Fuchs, the German-British nuclear scientist now serving a 12-year prison term in Britain for spying.

The F.B.I. said Rosenberg was the ring's contact with the Russian master-mind who financed it—Anatoli Yakovlev, former Soviet vice consul in New York.

Mrs. Rosenberg and her husband, Lane, said, have been "affiliated with Communist activities for a long period of time."

The others charged in the case are Alfred Dean Slack, a Syracuse, N. Y., scientist, accused of conspiracy, and Abraham Brothman and Miriam Moskowitz of New York, charged with conspiracy with Gold to give false testimony to a federal grand jury.

Mrs. Rosenberg's attorney, Alexander Bloch, said the charge against her was "flimsy," and tried unsuccessfully to have her bail reduced so she could remain home and care for her children, Michael, 7, and Robert, 3.

ment (1) that the Soviets desire a Korean settlement which would be "subject submission to Communist control," (2) that Russian tactics in the Security Council are designed to thwart the U.N. effort to restore peace and security in Korea, and (3) that Malik has disregarded "the duties of his office" as council president.

President Truman on Thursday had accused Malik of filibustering—blocking U.N. action on Korea with long tirades against the United States.

Acheson, at his news conference, also urged Congress to approve an $89,000,000 fund for a "campaign of truth" against Soviet propaganda.

He got some support from Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), who told a reporter he will support an increase in funds for the Voice of America, foreign-beamed short wave programs, because he thinks Moscow has been winning the propaganda battle.

Will Meet in New York

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Senate Crime Investigating Committee probably will hold a meeting in New York, a committee spokesman said last night.

The spokesman, committee counsel Rudolph Halley, said no date had been set for a Manhattan session. It would not be next week, he said, because the committee is holding a hearing in Washington on Wednesday. Halley refused to confirm press reports that the committee was probing a huge gambling ring allegedly operating in Bergen county, N. J., or black marketing in sugar in New York and New Jersey. The crime committee is headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

day were that this thrust too had been hurled back across the river.

These thrusts, the latest in a series, marked the probing of an enemy force which intelligence reports said was still growing into the largest along the entire front.

One of General MacArthur's intelligence officers said the persistent stubbornness of Red troops fighting near Changnyong indicated they expected reinforcements. He speculated they might be waiting for help from the Ninth and 14th North Korean Divisions believed to be between Taegu and Wauwgan.

If brought into action, these would swell the Communist force to six and perhaps seven divisions—between 60,000 and 70,000 men, along a 50-mile front aimed at Taegu.

This remains the "power potential" of a drive toward Taegu, the spokesman said.

have solemnly undertaken to protect the world from war commenced by the North Koreans and supported in the Security Council by the Soviet Union.

Jebb said that "repulsed in Europe, it is now clear that the dark forces of Communist imperialism are concentrating for the kill in Asia." He termed Malik's claim that the fighting in Korea is only civil war "patent nonsense."

Malik charged that the U. S. built up the South Korean army to invade North Korea, gave it supplies, and provoked an attack with guarantees from Gen. MacArthur that the South Koreans would get help from him.

Kennally Is Appointed

Boston, Aug. 12 (AP)—Leo P. Kennally, a Boston public relations man, has been appointed assistant vice-president in charge of public relations and advertising by the New Haven Railroad. Kennally, a political campaign publicist for the past 10 years, was named yesterday to succeed Herbert L. Baldwin, who said he was "removed" because of policy disagreements with management.

10 Reported Dead

Rio De Janeiro, Aug. 12 (AP)—Two trains loaded with commuters collided head-on today at Pavuna near the border of the federal district and the state of Rio de Janeiro and first reports said 10 were killed and 70 injured. A preliminary investigation indicated one of the trains disregarded a warning signal.
